

I Am

I am unique and dependent
I wonder how a person can meet their future love,
Yet walk right by
I hear the flowers blooming
I see sadness in every heart
I want to be different but still loved for what I am
I am unique and dependent

I pretend nothing's wrong
I feel lost in nothing
I touch my grandfather's hand
I worry for the future
I cry for the times I've lost
I am unique and dependent

I understand not everything goes right
I say that the only thing stopping you from great things are negative voices
I dream of a better place
I try to stay by my friends' side
I hope that my family could be completely happy
I am unique and dependent

Jessica Joseph
Grade 9
Esquimalt High