i saw those
tears
not running down
your face
over there
your
sad eyes
left behind
on those
big steps
you never forget

where did that child
go
where did that smile
hide
where did those crow's feet
land
when you were locked
inside

where did you go with all that fear
did it crouch
in little pieces
here
and
there

still

in everything you do
you may tell your partner but you'll never tell
your kids
is that where some of it is hid?
