

Phrases - from Lekeyten's Presentation

Everything has to stay clear, clean and unpolluted and it doesn't always happen.

Every two months a new species enters the Fraser River.

Mankind is not always to blame, but mankind ...we're very good at pointing the finger, blaming other people so the responsibility is put onto someone else.

It might take your generation to fix what we haven't been doing very well.

"Why have the number of fish dropped?"

We're looking at something that is very important.

Mankind is not always to blame.

A tributary is where a salmon goes to lay her eggs.

You're looking at the spring salmon, the chum, the eight species of sockeye, the steelhead and the pink salmon.

We haven't been taking care of that map very well!